EXTENSIVE REACH

Keeping you supplied is our mission. Our supply chain of national warehouses and offices ensures a solution is never far away, whether you are located locally or remotely. We go the extra mile to make sure you stay operational, including working with clients to hold key lines in stock. Ask what we can do for you.

BULK CHEMICALS

Rowe Scientific can supply you in bulk quantities to save time and money. Our industrial chemists can investigate a problem, design a solution and supply the reagents in the quantities you need to get the job done efficiently. We regularly import and manufacture chemicals locally for industrial, commercial and laboratory use. We are experienced in delivering organic solvents, mineral acids and water treatment products in bulk and passing the savings on to our clients.

CUSTOM PRODUCTION

We understand your needs as scientific professionals. If you require a made-to-order piece of equipment or specialised chemical compound, our staff are experienced and trained to deal with unusual or extraordinary scientific requests professionally.

INSTRUMENTATION

Rowe Scientific has a large range of laboratory and field instrumentation available from leading brands such as Mettler Toledo™, Ohaus™, Velp™, Hach™, Ratek™ and Witeg™ just to name a few.

AFTER SALES SERVICE

Laboratory instruments represent a significant investment both in terms of replacement costs and lost time if a breakdown occurs. To ensure you get the most out of your equipment we can offer a preventative maintenance plan. Should your instrument ever fail you can get reliable repairs and maintenance from one of our fully trained service technicians.
